

Senior Summer Reading Preview Spring 2018

Congrats, Wego Class of 2019 on stepping up to be seniors! One way to lead is to excel. Start your senior year off right by enjoying your summer reading.

All students participate in summer reading. Seniors enrolled in one or more English electives or British World Literature choose a book from the list below.

As you'll remember from years prior, enjoy this book as a "beach read." There is no need to annotate or take notes - simply read and relish your selection.

Among the Thugs by Bill Buford
The Awakening by Kate Chopin
The Girl on a Train by Paula Hawkins
In a Dark, Dark Wood by Ruth Ware
The Inexplicable Logic of my Life by Benjamin Alire Sáenz
Tuesdays with Morrie by Mitch Albom
Where You Go Is Not Who You'll Be by Frank Bruni

All of these books have a few things in common: they have spent time on the bestseller list. Whether you choose the memoir Tuesdays with Morrie that topped the New York Times Best Sellers list in 2000, the 2017 novel The Inexplicable Logic of my Life about a senior, Sal, and his loving Mexican American family, his gay step-father, and his best friend Samantha, or the non-fiction manual about college, Where You Go Is Not Who You'll Be, each book is popular, tested, and often award-winning.

This summer, spend a few hours reading one of these books for pleasure - for fun. You're on your way to adulthood, so the language arts division has chosen titles that you'll see read in book clubs, enjoyed at Starbucks, or featured at Barnes and Noble, libraries, airports, break rooms, or wherever readers can steal a few minutes for a good book.

Enjoy your summer. Enjoy your summer reading! Please make reading a daily part of your vacation. This can include online favorites, apps or websites on your phone, and your summer reading. All reading is good reading.

If you have any questions, contact language arts division chair, Mary Howard at mhoward@d94.org.
